Thought For The Week

This Sunday, we welcome Pope Francis to our country. He is with us to celebrate the World Meeting of Families. His main purpose is to bring home to us the massive importance of family life. Family is the cornerstone of society and the quality of society depends intimately on the health of family life. Families and children go together. Bringing children into the world is a sacred privilege. Birth is only the first step on the road to giving life. It is a long journey of nourishing and nurturing children. Intimate love and affection gives assurance that life is worthwhile and lays the foundation of a confident assured life ahead. Child experts constantly remind us that the first three years of a child's life are critical and much depends on the care and attention of loving parents.

However, the family task does not end with childhood. The whole programme of good parenting leads to the point when a young person has achieved the maturity of taking full responsibility of his/her life. In their early years, young people discover the joys of a happy family life, which leads them, in turn, to lay the foundations of a good family life themselves. Family is the place where all family members grow and develop. That is especially true of husbands and wives whose love for each other flourishes as they strive and struggle to give their children a great start in life. As we welcome Pope Francis may the Lord bless all families with genuine Christ-like love and real happiness.

Aged between 18 and 35? The Diocese of Ferns invites you to join them on pilgrimage to World Youth Day in Panama in January 2019. For details of this unique trip please contact Fr. Jim Doyle asap on 087 9736913.
